TT is proposed to establish in Shanghai 1 a Limited Banking Company, with the above title, in the belief that there is not only room, but actual necessity, for the additional facilities which such an institution will afford to the large local, coasting, and foreign trade which centres in this port.

The great extension of steam communication both by sea and river, and the creation of telegraphic connections, since the existing Local Bank was founded, have greatly added to the importance of Shanghai, until it has become the great depot or distributing point for the trade of Northern and Central China; but, while it seems rdescrable that Shanghai should be the head-quarters of the new Bank, and its direction on the spot where the principal interests are involved, a local Committee will be formed in Hongkong for the promotion of the undertaking there. The success of other public companies in Shanghai and Hungkong, and the evidence of a large sum of money seeking investment in Ohina, encourage the belief that the proposed Capital for this Bank will be readily subscribed; many influential native merchants have already come forward as active promoters and supporters of the undertaking, and the Confinittee look for a very valuable constituency from Chinese

The legal constitution of the Bank is engaging the consideration of the Committee, and reference has been made to London and elsewhere for the best legal advice upon the subject; and it is understood that no Shares will be alloted, nor will operations be commenced until the necessary arrangements have been completed. when further information will be laid before intending Shareholders. In the meantime, applications for shares are invited. until the 15th April, 1872, but must be on the prescribed forms, which can be obtained from the Secretary.

Hondrong, March 9th, 1872. An incident is mentioned in Mr. Stewart's report upon the Government Schools which, though not directly bearing upon the main Ahmed. subject treated, is well worthy of notice as illustrating the peculiar manuer in which combinations are frequently got up amongthe natives with the object of bringing false charges against nieu whom for some reason or another they desire to injure. The matter will probably be fresh in the recollection of many of our readers, and is briefly that five boys belonging to the School at Little Hongkong were induced by the villagers to bring a most disgraceful charge against their master The affair being investigated before the Magistrate, it 'was shown that the charge was utterly groundless, and the lying witnesses ting. A letter of the 21st June, 1871, was also On board the sampan be found at least one and ly there had of late years arisen in this country Directors of the East India. Mr. Stewart, in reporting the signed "Essak Hammed," and was also said to matter, expresses a natural wish that a good be written by Esa Abmed. A letter of the flogging had been added as well; and it would from Hongkong to F. M. Esa & Co. at Bombe very desirable if this idea were acted upon bay. It was signed by witness for the firm of and the punishment of flogging generally inflicted in cases where Chinese witnesses are found giving false testimony. 'So elaborate were the arrangements for trumping up the charge in this case, that although it was known to be entirely without foundation, and to have been got up simply because the master had flogged one of the boys, the forgery, but he had not had this letter for the whole village joined in and incited the boys to come forward with their false testimony. The mere tie of belonging to a cerscheme of his own, is, as we see by the inall considerations of truth or right. Well may Mr. Stewarr exclaim that it was melancholy to listen to the tissue of falsehoods and contradictions of which the boys were guilty in the witness box; and add that our mode of inflicting punishment fails sadly to meet such cases, and that a heavy fine on the whole village and imprisonment of the Tepaou would have been a punishment salutary for the present and deterrent for the future. "The villagers," he says "are simply children in civilization, and punishment, after English ideas, is to them little or no punishment at all. There is neither conscience nor a healthy public opinion to appeal to, and where these are wanting ordinary punishments fall very lightly." This remark

Leong Akum v. Essabhoy Ahmed. Return of write of Foreign Attachment. This case was resumed yesterday morning. Mr. Drummond proposed to put in the letters produced by the Attorney-General. The Attorney-General said he did not know what these letters were to prove, but they wore addressed to Abdool Moosa, and had never reached his hands. They were stopped by the warrant of the Lieut. Governor, but were never used in the criminal trial, and though returned to Moosa's Attorney, had never been seen by Moosa himself, who had been in gaol ever since He did not know whether they were intended as evidence against the defendants or to show that this property belonged to them. Mr. Drummond said he proposed to use them as evidence of the debt. He should simply prove at present that they were written by Esa

The Attorney-General yesterday continue his speech on behalf of the defendants in th Tichborne baronetoy case. His narrative o the relations between Roger Tichborne and his Campuos, packed, cousin Kate, together with his statement of the reasons which led Sir Edward and Lady Doughty to refuse their consent to the union of the young people, was listened to with the deepest attention by the crowded court. The learned coursel read at length extracts from SHAWEED, Green, the correspondence which had passed between Roger and Lady Doughty, principally to show Mossers, Dry Siamlarge, the terms upon which the families were, and the style in which Tichborne was capable of VERMIOTELL, Tiontain..... writing. The Attorney-General then, in fore-BEES WAI, Japan, shadowing the line of the defence, told the jury that it was the plaintiff's duty to satisfy them that he was Roger Tichborne, and it was no part of the defendants' duty to show who the claimant really was. It might be possible that nobody could say who the plaintiff really was, whilst still it was clear that he was not Roger Tichborne. He would not conceal that be had a great body of evidence to show that the plaintiff probably was Arthur Orton, but still it was P. H. Hennings, Master, will be despatched TO no part of his duty to show to demonstration DAY, the 9th inst., at 5 P.M., as above. that he was this person. He should, however, contend that the plaintiff's own story, and what he had written, showed that he was not Roger Tichborne, and that the conclusion was almost inevitable that he was Arthur Orton. The speaker then placed before the jury an outline of the case supporting the Orton bypothesis, and was proceeding to comment upon the circumstances under which the discovery of the claimant was made in Australia, when the will leave for the above places at daylight TO-Court adjourned. An Embassy from Japan has reached San Francisco, and five Japanese princesses have P. & O. S. N. Co.'s Office, arrived in America in order to be educated words which the Chinese have of late years been compelled to coin to express the numerous objects in machinery photography, telegraphy, and in scionce generally, which the rapid advance of foreign relations has imposed upon them, are or Awnings. here given in extenso. Each and every word is fully illustrated and explained, forming exercises for students of a most instructive nature. Both the Court and Punti pronunciations are given, the accents being carefully marked on make the Chinese and English type correspond in the size of body, thereby effecting a vast economy of space, achieving a clearness not ", 5,832, 1 previously attained, and dispensing with those vast margins and vacant spaces which have heretofore characterized Chinese publications. To illustrate the vist scope of the work, the following fasts are submitted for consideration. Chalmers' Vocabularly contains about 16,000 Chinese characters, and Medburst's English and Chinese Dictionary about 100,000, whilst this work contains more than 50,000 English words, and upwards of 600,000 Chinese characters. Again, despite all the grammars and other elementary works as yet published, the student of this difficult language absolutely requires examples to display the various applications and equivalents of different words which have one general meaning. Of these examples this work contains more than five times as many as any other Dictionary hitherto pub-
